

Vicki Pedersen is an attorney, business owner, amateur poet and 30-year resident of Marin. She received her B.S. degree from the Univ. of Washington, M.S. from U.S.C., and a J.D. from U.S.F., with adjunct studies at Boalt Hall (U.C. Berkeley). As a lawyer, she specializes in intellectual property and entertainment licensing, and served as in-house counsel for Winterland Productions, Sony Signatures and Jamba Juice Company. As a business owner, she's ventured into real estate development, and helps oversee operations for numerous franchised restaurant locations throughout the Bay Area. As a lover of poetry and lifelong hiker, she's deeply grateful for the abundant creative energy and natural beauty found in Marin.

In addition to MCA, Vicki serves on the Board of Directors of several private companies and non-profit organizations, including Tam House, which provides high quality, affordable housing to low income seniors. Vicki's commitment to supporting the vibrancy and accessibility of the arts is shared by her husband, Pete, an award-winning landscape architect who moonlights in a "dad band" or two. They have two grown sons who also share a slightly obsessive love of guitars.
